House.

MORNING SESSION

The House was opened with prayer by the Rev Mr Moreland of Salem Roll called and Messrs. Andrews, Barin, Burbank, Crawford, Corwin, Clow, Gingles, Johnson Thornbury, Martin, Ousten, Patton Riddle Stephenson, Stott Simpson and West were absent. The journal was read and approved and the House was open for transaction of the usual business

H B No — providing for the construction of the State Capital Building, being the order of the hour, came up for disposition

Mr Burbank was not prepared to dis... the bill yet Since the burning of the old State Capitol, it was true the Legislature were occupying a suite of rooms entirely unadapted for a legislative hall; but in viewing the financial plan prepared for carrying out the building plan, he thought the appropriation much too large. He would therefore amend by cutting down the sum proposed and inserting $50 000 instead of $100 000

Mr Patton thought $60 000 was entirely inadequate. Two years hence there would be $152,000 to pay off $44,000 outstanding bonds.

Mr Cranor moved to amend Mr Burbank's amendment by substituting $30,000 instead of $50,000 If we appropriate so much for the Capitol, what could be done to build an Insane Asylum? He was in favor of deferring the incurring of this expense until the coming immigration could assist in paying for public improvements There was twelve years yet before the lease on the building occupied at present expired, therefore he wanted to delay legislation of the bill He was willing to make a small appropriation each year which would fully provide for outlays until the lease on the building now occupied should expire.

Mr Simpson on part of his constituents thought the matter had already been sufficiently considered There was now $69 000 idle in the treasury It was proposed to take but $50 000 This fund was increasing so that the outlay proposed would never be felt He opposed any cutting down of the amount proposed, or any further delay in the legislation of the bill

Mr Ganles had not intended taking any active part in this discussion This bill had passed through the hands of two committees upon neither of which was there a member from Marion county The bill was not a bill to help Marion county, but one which affected the interests of the whole State. This town first-born of the American settlements in Oregon was most eminently suitable for the location of this building Outside of the schools and churches which were not State buildings there was nothing in the town to show that it was the Capital of the State He wished to show that Oregon could be a progressive State, and that she could hold a proud position in this sisterhood of States The speaker then read a letter from an Eastern firm in which the writers expressed an intention to establish a house in Wallamet Valley if they could be assured that there was no danger to apprehend from Indians He would oppose any attempt to delay the building of a State Capital

Mr Burbank too liked the idea of progression but the State was already in debt $200 000 on the locks and canal and he was opposed to any further indebtedness He was in favor of a moderate appropriation at each session sufficient to carry on work in a moderate way

Mr Mallory said that not a single argument had been adduced against the question Why should not $100 000 be appropriated toward this building? That sum was small enough to start with The annual expenses of sitting in this hall would in a few years itself almost pay for a State house

To the question Shall the amendment to the amendment pass? the House voted no

On Mr Burbank's resolution to refer to committee said committee to cut down to $60 000 the ayes and noes were called with the following result—ayes 12, no, 37

Mr Martin moved to take a recess for twenty minutes Lost

On final passage of the bill the vote stood as follows: aye 43 no Messrs Blakely Cranor Crooks, Shelton Waldon, Willoughby—6 So the bill passed

Mr Hirsch offered a resolution that a majority of this body favor such a course as will bring about a speedy settlement of electing Senator that we will, in joint convention, vote to take a recess after first ballot, when joint convention shall reassemble and ballot until a reasonable effort shall have been made to obtain that result

The resolution was finally tabled by a vote of 48 to 20

The House then took a recess of five minutes to prepare for ...

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM September 26 1872

Mr Holladay's Salem organ—which is not personal—is very indignant this morning because your correspondent is "hired" Well, he must confess that he is hired, and takes pride in believing that "the laborer is worthy of his hire" I have yet to learn that in this free country it is any disgrace to labor for a fair compensation in any honorable way, but if it be, what is the history of the one who uses that pet word of his as though it were the ne plus ultra of infamy? Has he ever been hired to write for the OREGONIAN? Has he ever been "hired" to perform any ... services? Is he "hired" now? He ... plains bitterly of my saying that ... members of the Legislature only hold their seats until the Committee on Elections make a report I say this because the ... effort to keep back that report until ... votes are used shows plainly what the report will be, and also because the evidence before the Committee shows that sixty odd votes cast for the contestants and not ... by the judges were counted out by the ... This is a matter of record, and if the Republican party will descend to carrying ... by votes which are not legally obtained it is sealing its own death warrant. That is the very best point we made against the Democracy last spring, and now some of our party propose to fasten the same load on our own shoulders I do not propose to get into any controversy with the Salem "organ," but I don't want its ... to ... I am either ashamed or afraid to work ... for hire, nor that thus being hired ... me of any right as an American citizen

There is a great flutter this morning on the streets among third house men, and the ... point of discussion is how many ballots ... be taken to-day, but my impression is that the voting will be kept up for an hour or two at least, and as some who voted with the Ring express themselves as reluctantly ... rash pledges, it is confidently predicted that one or two more votes will satisfy their consciences and leave them free to vote as they please took place in the House this morning on the bill appropriating $100,000 to build a State House. Burbank of Yamhill moved to ... by inserting $50,000, and Cranor of Linn moved a still further reduction to $30,000. Mr Burbank ... on the subject, ... and the ... at ... caution in the use and appropriation of public money He thought that ... waited so many years it looked ... to be in ... to ... a large ... the bill at the time ... so many ... propositions are on their passage. He was sustained by Cranor, and opposed by ... Caples and Mallory, after which the amendments were voted down and the bill ... the House. By this ... arriving in the hall, and at the hour of 12 the fair sex was well represented within the bar, while the ... and hall were ... with ... The ... was that the first ballot would ... as yesterday, and that a protracted ... would then take place was a little different from this ... in that Walker of Jackson voted for Mitchell, making his vote 33, the same as on the day before yesterday. A motion to take a recess until 2 o'clock was carried by a full vote of the Republicans, and now the question is can any one be "induced" to change his vote during the hour and a half from now till then. If so you will learn by telegraph, if not, I shall have the pleasure of telling the same old story again

FRIDAY MORNING SEPT 2 1872

A Fraud Proved

Yesterday September 6th 1872 Hon Enoch Walker Representative from Jackson county received from the postoffice at Salem a letter purporting to have been written by E. L. Anderson J M McCall and Jake Thompson and referring to C C Beekman and others as authorizing them to use his name urging him Walker to support Mr Mitchell for Senator The letter was dated Jacksonville September [illegible] 1872 It opened with the statement that the writers saw by the papers that Mr Walker had voted for Corbett It was postmarked Phoenix September 2nd 1872

Considering this letter as amounting to instruction from his constituency Mr Walker changed his vote from Mr Corbett to Mr Mitchell But the fact that it was dated two days before any vote had been taken, and postmarked at a place nine miles from Jacksonville, aroused suspicion of foul play Inquiry at the postoffice at Salem disclosed that it was a dropped letter in that office and had been deposited two hours before the Jacksonville mail arrived there A telegram was then sent to Mr Beekman at Jacksonville, inquiring about the genuineness of the letter, and he, at a late hour last evening answered as follows

To Hon E F Walker I have not authorized any person to say I opposed Corbett, nor have I authorized any one to use my name in any shape whatever in connection with the election of Senator If any person says I told him to say one word to either you or Langell in regard to the matter he tells a falsehood C. C BEEKMAN.

E B Watson also telegraphed from Jacksonville the following to H Y Thompson

Beekman prefers Corbett to Mitchell, but will not advise our representatives who to go for and this is the general feeling here prevalent

The Political Situation

The Ring paper has come back to the subject of disorganization again, and is branding Senator Corbett and those members of the Legislature who support him as disorganizers and traitors to the Republican party There is truly a surprising and alarming state of affairs in the Republican party A little clique of men, with Mr J H Mitchell at their head having formed themselves into a committee to run the Republican party are now attempting by corruption, deception and threats to convert the entire party into a mere instrument with which they may compass their personal objects The party organization, the material interests of the country all must be sacrificed to Mr Mitchell's inordinate greed of power and the equal greed of gain which actuates his satellites and his master That the course pursued by this ring of unscrupulous politicians, has already done more to disorganize and destroy the Republican party than all other causes combined no one who pretends to know anything about the politics of the State during the last few years would think of denying They have taken upon themselves to dictate all the measures of the party and all the men who are to be its representatives Surrounding themselves with a horde of mercenary tools, who have neither character nor pecuniary interest at stake, the sans culottes of both political parties, they have trampled down and trodden under foot the usages and principles of the party, in the most reckless and defiant manner, whenever that course appeared likely to forward their schemes of selfish aggrandizement Every one of them from the chief down being attached by pay or otherwise to the fortunes of an oppressive and soulless monopoly, the unity and perpetuity of the Republican party are nothing to them The interests of the Railroad monopoly are their interests and Holladay's politics is their politics

By fraud so palpable and outrageous that they themselves have never possessed the hardihood to deny it when charged upon them, this corrupt ring succeeded at the primaries which preceded the last June election in "setting up" the county conventions in one or two of the most populous counties in the State, and thus sent to the Legislature from those counties men who do not represent the wishes or preferences of one third of the Republicans of their counties To accomplish this they found it necessary to seize the primaries and drive Republican voters therefrom with threats and violence and nominate their ticket by Democratic votes It was nothing that party usages were thus trampled under foot and Republicans were excluded from participating in their own primaries; it was nothing that the wishes of the Republican party were thus thwarted it was nothing that a long suffering, patriotic party remonstrated and protested against a proceeding so unjust and which had never before been heard of in their party organization Mr Mitchell must be Senator let come what might Mr Mitchell's ambition for office demanded this immolation of the party Mr Holladay's avarice for gain demanded it the necessities of the entire horde of hungry political vultures, who form this festering ulcer on the body politic, and who feed upon Government patronage imperatively required it It must be done or the Republican party would free itself from the dictation of the Railroad Ring and grow strong in the strength of harmony and purity

The preliminary steps in the Ring's [illegible] having been taken it remains for them to elect their candidate to the Senate To do this they bring a motley multitude of their hired instruments to the Capital pot house politicians street bummers shoulder strikers et id genus omne—to force the Republican members of the Legislature to submit to the demands of the Ring and employ a notoriously subsidized press to denounce as a disorganizer of the party every man who refuses to submit Whether they will succeed or not remains to be seen

This is the state of affairs under which Mr Corbett's friends engaged in this contest They have no such attachment to Mr Corbett as would induce them to press his claims against the wishes or interests of the Republican party But they have considered that his known independence of all rings and factions together with the history of his faithful services to the party and the country fit him as a Senator and a private citizen make him the fittest representative of the true sentiments of his party So far as we have any knowledge Mr Corbett has never expressed a desire to be a candidate for the Senate if any other man could better unite the party in this emergency but he and those who have supported him having in view a [illegible] except the safety and harmony of the party are resolved to free the organization from its thraldom to this corrupt Ring [illegible] sible If they do not succeed now [illegible] succeed hereafter The [illegible] railroad mon [illegible]

life-blood not of the Republican party only but of the whole people and it must be waged to victory though it take years to reach that end

Around Looking at Things

For the past few days the telegraph has been much employed in telling where Mr Greeley was to be found what he was saying by the way what [illegible] were at his heels and reporting his discursive speeches He has arrived at Louisville Kentucky, and made there a [illegible] harangue about bloody chasms conciliation etc without ever once coming to any point upon the really vital issues involved in the national contest or touching any of the great questions which are before the people of the country for consideration in the campaign and decision in the approaching election His journey which seems to be a sort of "swinging round the circle" trip without any particular objective point or destined goal is much in keeping with his speeches and his management of the canvass is one with what would be his management of the government were he elected He is the great experimenter of the age and in that capacity he would prove a success but in no other—except it be as a journalist in which pursuit he gained all the notoriety he has before his head was turned with the idea of becoming President Since that passion assumed the control of his mind it really seems as if he had reached his dotage, and he now starts on his peregrinations through the country like a child "let's be friends," "let's conciliate" "come shake hands across this chasm" etc as if there is anybody in the whole United States who was not in favor of the greatest friendship between men of all sections of our common country He talks of effecting a reconciliation between the North and the South as though the two sections were yet divided by some great difference And while he thus talks, the very men who applaud his words and seek to place him in the Presidential chair, that they may use him as a "cat's paw" to carry out their evil intentions are the only obstacles that have ever stood in the way of a perfect mutuality of good feeling between the two sections once arrayed in hostilities on the battlefields of this nation He seeks to ignore the fact that the Republican party with that man at its head who led the armies of the nation through the storm of war to the haven of peace has long ago offered the olive branch of peace to those who should desire conciliation and that the amplest opportunity has been afforded the great masses of the people in the Southern States to become reconciled to the government they so outrageously offended Mr Greeley himself would not (though some of his supporters might say that in the "late unpleasantness" the Southern States were not the offending party Then for what should the people of the Northern States or the Republican party go down on its marrow bones and beg pardon They have done nothing to be forgiven They do not propose—as does Mr Greeley to go back on their record of progress but still to advance in the development of new and enlightened theories of government new plans for the prosperity of the nation new systems for the promotion of happiness among the people The Republican party is one of progress, and its course in working the redemption of this country from the brink of annihilation and strengthening it in all the elements of a prosperous and glorious career has heretofore and will hereafter commend it to the support of the thinking people of the nation And until the final settlement of all the material questions which now attract the attention of the great minds of both parties, we apprehend that neither Mr Greeley who, personally does not seem able to grasp these questions, nor any other man will be able to estrange them from supporting the party which has been the bulwark of national existence and the palladium of our national liberties

The Late Meeting of Royalty

The late meeting in Berlin of the three Emperors of Germany, Austria and Prussia respectively has been the subject of much comment among the people and in the press of the United States but a moiety of the interest has not been felt here which has been on the other side of the Atlantic And a union of three such powers, with evil intent, it has been well said, would be alarming enough to the rest of Europe But no significance of that kind has been given to the triangular conference And it is also denied that an alliance offensive and defensive was had in view in the meeting nor can it be said that they were planning divisions of neighboring territories So we are in the absence of any authoritative statement of the objects sought or accomplished in the meeting, but left to infer that it was for the purpose of giving mutual expressions of good will and in the interests of peace The three Governments of which these Emperors are the respective heads have all undergone changes in the past few years favorable to human rights which have not heretofore characterized them Having a good understanding with each other they can afford to considerably reduce their war establishments and at the same time equally conserve the general peace of the continent

Death of Peter Cartwright

[illegible] this morning announce the death of this noted Methodist preacher But few men were better known in all the great West and none were more respected He was a man of the most determined force of character and an unquenchable will together with striking integrity and boundless resources in great emergency He was the pioneer of Western Methodism in the Western States and a true believer in muscular as well as militant Christianity Though of a limited education as far as the classics were concerned his practical knowledge was great and but few opponents dared to meet him in argument on the peculiar tenets of his church Peter Cartwright possessed in an eminent degree the elements of great men and the world is better off for his having lived in it

GREELEY OFF COLOR—The example of Ben Wood of New York in paying one thousand dollars forfeit money on a bet of ten thousand dollars that Greeley would be the next President is followed by many other persons At the Fifth Avenue Hotel Astor House and other [illegible] the aggregate [illegible] on the [illegible] Greeley [illegible] per cent [illegible] hundred dollars was [illegible]

In the beginning of this campaign before Greeley got his papers at Baltimore [illegible] New York [illegible] claimed that it would be more [illegible] than ever After such a [illegible] it looks very funny to see that [illegible] eulogizing Mr [illegible] the [illegible] who has [illegible] himself so [illegible] at large would reflect great honor upon the State The endorsement of such men is what it meant by being more Republican than ever

The Locks at Oregon City

We publish the following letter as giving a good description of the work which has been done on the Locks and Dam at Oregon City

OREGON CITY Sept 21 1872

TO THE EDITOR

SIR Having to day made a visit to the Canal and Locks being constructed opposite this city and being both surprised and interested in a close inspection of the same from end to end we venture to place at your disposal the result of our observations Mr J A Lesourd very kindly conducted us over the Works and to him we are indebted for that information we may be able to give the public through your valuable columns Commencing at the inlet to the Canal above the Falls we perceive a well defined entrance on the west side of the river about 160 feet in width Entered on one side the natural bank forms a lofty, solid stone wall on the other a crib is in course of construction which for strength and solidity we would think capable of standing the wear and tear of ages It is constructed of solid timbers 12x12 The bents are 12x14 6 feet from center to center and only 5 feet apart Holes have been punched out of the solid rock beneath so that every post rests on a solid immovable foundation and every bent is strengthened by a 3 inch iron rod securely bolted and sealed It is apparently as strong as iron and wood can make it The canal then widens out into a basin of an irregular shape with an area of six or seven acres the upper side a natural stone wall as before and the river side a crib 20 feet wide resting on a stone wall 18 feet deep to give it solid foundation and to resist the pressure of extreme high water and an accumulation of logs and drift-wood In this crib also, every post is sunk into a stone foundation The inside bottom planking is laid in cement and masonry The crib extends from the inlet to the guard lock is 13 feet above the grade of the canal and 1,250 feet in length We took occasion to notice in connection with this crib that the timber appeared to be of the very best quality While we were looking on we inadvertently overheard one of the foremen finding fault and finally rejecting as too sappy some heavy timbers from the raft just arrived, which to our inexperienced eye appeared perfectly sound We mention this to show that great care must have been exercised on selecting and using good material only There are about 150 men working at the inlet and crib and Mr L asserts that he could complete that portion of the work above the guard lock and have the water in the canal in two weeks, if necessary Arriving at the guard lock we find two massive timber gates, each weighing 10 000 pounds fitted as they are with four cast iron wickets, each and all the machinery necessary for their perfect working These gates are already swung on the posts fastened to the hollow quoins of the great walls of the guard lock The upper side of this Lock is a natural stone wall from 100 to 120 feet perpendicular The lower wall built by the Company is I venture to say as solid a specimen of stone masonry as there is on the Pacific coast It is 280 feet in length 10 feet thick at the base 5 feet on top and 16 feet high The masonry work is all first class the cement of the best quality to prove which, Mr Lesourd endeavored with a hammer, to drive an 8d nail between two stones but failed On arriving at the end of the guard lock we enter another basin which widens out to 70 or 80 feet in the center and is cribbed on the lower side by a crib constructed as before described, but having for foundation a stone wall from 6 to 12 feet deep resting on the solid rock, thus effectually preventing any possible escape of water This crib is 1 200 feet long, 9 feet high and 9 feet at the base This basin is a very necessary adjunct to the Canal and Locks as in it steamboats can pass each other, or in case of accident to any boat in transit it could be moored here without impeding or obstructing the passage of another At the end of this basin we come to the gate of the 4th lock This in going down stream, is the first of four locks the last of which passes the boats out on a level with the river below the Falls The gates to these locks are heavier than those of the guard lock Each lock is 40 feet clear in width and 210 feet in length with 10 feet lift to each The first has a solid natural stone wall thirty six feet high on each side This has all been blasted out from top to bottom, and it is so nearly completed that it will be ready for the gates in about two weeks The second lock has a similar wall of twenty six feet also blasted out The excavation is complete and the masons are laying the hollow quoins for the gates The third rising as all do ten feet has not required so much of the giant powder Three or four days more will finish the excavation in this The fourth is only about half excavated This lock will be enclosed in solid stone walls which are being rapidly pushed to completion The gates to each lock are all framed ready to be put together and swung as soon as the hollow quoins are laid

We have endeavored—imperfectly we fear to give your readers an idea of the work that has been done To accomplish it has required thirteen large derricks to raise the rocks as blasted and blocks of stone for the masons About four miles of tramways have been laid along which seven double teams are constantly hauling car loads of rock Four steam engines are at work night and day raising from four hundred to two hundred gallons of water per minute forty one feet out of the deep cut Stone quarries have been opened on the Clackamas river from which several scows are constantly engaged in bringing blocks of stone many of them weighing seven or eight tons Mr [illegible] says that every boll [illegible] and there are hundreds [illegible] the Company [illegible] dollars besides the expense of quarrying and transportation Mr [illegible] Moore who has had charge of the blasting for several months asserts that in the first [illegible] second [illegible] alone over 30 000 [illegible] of [illegible] have been used [illegible] which has required about [illegible] of giant powder Much more rock could have been thrown out if black powder could have been used but the rock being porous the holes drilled hold so much water that only giant powder could be used [illegible] It is much to the credit of Capt [illegible] W Smith Chief Engineer of the work and evidences his very careful supervision that with all this vast amount of rock removed by blasting, and that the explosive generally speaking [illegible] within [illegible] not a single life has been lost from [illegible] may add that but one man out of the many who have been employed on the works has lost his life by an accident and poor fellow it was his own duty to inspect and see that the tackling was safe which unfortunately he [illegible] his instantaneous death There are now about five hundred men employed on the works and to a visitor industry and [illegible] Perhaps from these facts your readers can form some idea of the magnitude of the work and the [illegible] with which it is being prosecuted If [illegible] individuals whose minds are prejudiced in regard to the [illegible] Canal and Locks are being constructed will only take the trouble to [illegible] work for themselves [illegible] prejudices would vanish [illegible] Capt Smith or his gentlemanly assistant [illegible] to conduct them over the work and explain everything Many have doubted the ability of the Chief Engineer to have the Canal and Locks completed according to contract If they only knew the difficulties he has already contended with and surmounted and had seen the immense amount of work accomplished within the last month [illegible] would doubt no longer

The Era has been shown a private letter received by a gentleman of this city from a friend residing in Texas which contains information interesting to stock owners The writer stated that droves of cattle aggregating nearly 4,000 head were about to leave that State for Oregon and Idaho They are owned by several parties who are impressed with the many natural advantages offered to the stock raiser in this State and Idaho and who are desirous of getting near to a better market than they have heretofore enjoyed As the letter was written nearly two months ago, it is very probable that the cattle are now on the road coming this way

At a recent election in Wyoming very few women went to the polls A lady writer explains this by saying that they had been practically excluded from the juries for two years by the manner in which the lists were made up and that they naturally took that as an indication that the "lords of creation" had no use for their assistance in public matters

A Paris correspondent of the New York World contains the following translation of President Thiers views concerning the approaching meeting of the Emperors at Berlin

M Thiers yielding to that puerile vanity which is one of his characteristics gave [illegible] satisfaction by sleeping in the Elysee the nights of St Napoleon, and breakfasting there St Napoleon's day Under these circumstances he could feel almost as if Napoleon III was under his feet and he was [illegible] him [illegible] ecstatic sensation

"As there are to be three of them present we have nothing to fear from their meeting, for 'tis in politics as in love, something is sure to follow when only two are together when three are in company nothing can come of the meeting When I visited the European capitals during the war I was especially well received by the Emperor of Austria I expected to be well received by him, because I was almost the only person in France who had predicted that if Austria was made powerless Austria which menaced nobody—a compact menacing irresistible Prussia would be created I was received with no less cordiality at St Petersburg The Czar instantly told me that he was strangely misunderstood when he was suspected of entertaining schemes of aggrandizement and conquest He said 'I do not lack territory what I want is men I have too much land I have not inhabitants enough, there is no population at all on some parts of my dominion Why should I wage war? To add, at the cost of spilling blood by diminishing my capital of men (which is already inadequate to my wants), new provinces to those I already possess? It would be an insane policy which would resemble but from another stand point, that of Napoleon III. The Czar was not obliged to tell me the whole truth nevertheless from what I and heard on all sides, I am convinced he was sincere, and I have new reasons to believe that his views have undergone no change The Emperor of Germany has a very great good quality—a good quality which is very rare in a monarch. When he has once selected a man whose talents and skill may be useful to him, the Emperor is constantly faithful to him, and keeps him at the cost of the greatest sacrifices—the greatest sacrifices of the monarchs are the sacrifices of their vanity The Emperor of Germany bears with stoical calmness and inexhaustible patience the ill-humor, the sharp speeches and even the rebuffs of his Prime Minister The Emperor evidently suffers from this state of things but he knows that this Prime Minister is indispensable to him, and he yields—he forgets the bursts of temper and defects of character He remembers only the services the Prime Minister has done, and he thinks of the services he may yet do As for the King of Italy, he is a man Nobody has yet done him justice He is represented as a barracks hero, an ardent chamois hunter, a Lothario for women, a sort of crowned hail fellow-well-met. Take care! That hail fellow well-met is the astutest, ablest most statesmanlike monarch in Europe So long as M de Cavour lived all the honor of Italian policy was attributed to the latter nevertheless it is more than probable that the King was a very active and very intelligent seconder of M de Cavour, only the King did not boast of it He left all the honor to M de Cavour provided he had all the profit. Since M de Cavour's death there has been no change in the policy which has remained after the death of that great minister that which it was before—namely, persevering in moving towards its object, and especially very adroit. The King of Italy manages every thing, holds the reins of domestic and foreign policy and seems to bother himself about nothing—which is the height of adroitness Patient and resolute he watches for the opportunity and seizes it by the forelock People wonder that every thing—even his defeats—proves successes to him, 'tis because he had a visible, palpable national policy at an epoch when no other Government had one. Therefore what has taken place? He has eaten the artichoke to to its very leaf. He set out from Tunis. He is at Rome People may according to their opinions, have different views about his residence in the City of Popes, but it would be puerile to believe he can ever be driven out of it. I must add that, if ever a nation deceived me, 'tis the Italian nation I confess I did not believe it to be so judicious, so well prepared to practice liberty I have been exceedingly surprised that after all the convulsions of the peninsula there is still to be found a conservative party strong and compact enough to maintain the equilibrium I was far from foreseeing this result. I have been mistaken sometimes, but whenever I am mistaken I have never had the bad taste to deny it."

THE LATEST ROMANCE —The choicest romance of the season has been found, not at the great watering places, but in New York, or rather in Harlem, which lies at the upper end of the Island. The story is well vouched for, and we presume some one of the great throng of novel writers will snatch up the incident for a touching tale of love It appears that a Harlem gentleman named Moore who had amassed a fortune of $300,000 by honest labor as builder, died a few months since, leaving his wealth unconditionally to his devoted wife. Mrs. Moore paid the last tokens of respect to the memory of her husband donned the ordinary signs of mourning, and settled up the business of the departed as any sensible widow might be expected to do In the employ of Mr. Moore, as night watchman had been a man, John Hughes by name, at the moderate wages of eight dollars a week He was an awkward fellow, uncouth and unattractive, passing in the circle where he was known for a greenhorn, but as he was faithful, Mrs Moore retained him in her service. But rumor, ever active, soon spread abroad the news that, in his nightly round of duties. John Hughes was accompanied by Mrs. Moore. The charitable said it was because of her anxiety as to the safety of the property, while another circle of neighbors thought it a departure from propriety on the widow's part. The midnight walks became more frequent but curiosity and scandal were soon set at rest by Mrs Moore, who apparently following her own inclinations and seeking no advice from her neighbors, sold a block of houses for $186,000 and accompanied her awkward servant to Manhattanville, where they were married And now they are living quietly at an elegant home in Twenty second street, another than John Hughes watches the property And let all night watchmen in the service of wealthy widows take courage

A HORSE REFUSING TO RUN OVER A CHILD —There is a horse at present in the Isle of Man possessed of such singular intelligence and amiability of disposition that the sooner he is bought from his owner and transferred to London the better This good natured animal positively refuses to run over human creatures, and will throw himself into the most intricate contortions rather than injure a hair of their heads A few days ago according to the Manx Sun, the horse in question was proceeding through the Market place in Douglas, harnessed to an "inside car While thus engaged in the performance of his duties a child, aged two years, the son of a fruit dealer, ran across the road in front of the car and was knocked down by the horse Our own London horses, encouraged by their drivers, would have made short work of the hapless infant not so however with the Manx horse, who was observed to make a sudden pause, move its right fore foot about and having placed its hoof lightly on the child's breast, to again lift it up putting it down by the child's side without injuring it The bystanders immediately extricated the child from its perilous position and the horse resumed its journey, carrying with it the respect and admiration of all who witnessed the scene among whom is stated were "two gentlemen of high position in Douglas whose names if necessary might be given

Don Piatt writing from the White Sulphur Springs to the Washington Capital says The paternal author of the belle here [illegible] is said, the other day shortly after his return to the Springs, was approached by a youth who requested a few minutes conversation in private, and began 'I was requested to see you sir, by your lovely daughter Our attachment —— Young man interrupted the parent briskly, 'I don't know what that girl of mine is about You are the fourth gentleman who has approached me this morning on that subject I have given my consent to the others, and I give it to you God bless you.

The New York World says "It may astonish some persons to learn that the President's ring in Pennsylvania are preparing to put the enormous sum of $5,000,000 into this conflict It astonishes us says the Times Journal that the arithmetician of the World with his magnificent possibilities didn't soar to the truth The fact is the Republicans of Pennsylvania have a campaign fund of $5,000,000,000,000,000 Of this neat little sum we are assured Simon Cameron contributed out of his own plethoric pocket $4,000,000,000,000 We have seen a man who saw Simon Cameron write a check on the banks of the Schuylkill for that amount and who saw the check cashed

Wheat in Liverpool [illegible]

[illegible] continues with [illegible] at [illegible] the [illegible] but [illegible] ground for this feeling [illegible] to supply the demand for the various business enterprises, and the purposes of trade [illegible] inadequate supply but [illegible] present [illegible] will lead to anything [illegible] general [illegible] pression of business

The [illegible] Herald [illegible] The [illegible] monetary stringency in Eastern markets [illegible] the coming autumn [illegible] discussed with [illegible] but [illegible] It is alleged that nearly twenty millions of foreign capital are now on the New York market and being loaned on a class of [illegible] quite different from established usage [illegible] was the rule [illegible] such money on Government collaterals as security but now it is loaned on call in sums to suit It is held by some prominent bankers that those funds have been sent here [illegible] loaned in the manner described for the purpose of obtaining immediate supplies of gold should any favorable change occur in European markets by reason of the German indemnity payments We are of the opinion that this reasoning is not well based and that the money is here by force of natural causes In preceding articles we have made allusion to the large excess of funds in European markets generally and mentioned the wonderful reproduction of hoarded money in France—hoarded by the masses prior to and during the war in Germany but restored to circulation by means of the great French loan Interest rates in Europe are far steadier and lower than in this country while the means offered for its employment are more artificial than natural Europe is already developed to a very large extent. Her populations are dense and her lands improved The area occupied by each nation is comparitively small, with the single exception of Russia, and every form of industry has been in active operation for generations The reverse is our condition Our country is so large and so sparsely peopled in comparison; it is so bountifully supplied with natural resources so rich in mineral and other wealth that it furnishes a natural field of unlimited extent for the employment of capital European bankers and men of financial standing eagerly avail themselves of opportunities to loan on the credit of foreign nations and when these and other legitimate operation are wanting recourse is had to speculative schemes of every description American securities have reached a higher standard in Europe since the cleaning out of the Erie Railroad stables the prosecution of New York corporation scoundrels, and the degradation of their judicial associates and backers. Foreign money has come seeking employment in large sums and while waiting for more permanent investment, finds something to do in the way of call loans It has been sufficiently demonstrated that Europe is in no need of gold having already so much that the French loan unprecedented as it was had no disturbing effect on her markets. Nor is there likely to be any early demand for that metal, as a condition of absolute peace obtains, with nothing of a character to menace its continuance especially as the grand success attending the peaceful arbitration of our Alabama claims can scarcely fail to make a favorable impression, and commend that mode of arbitrament as preferable to the sword

We can discover reasons enough of a natural type why foreign capital should seek our shores and be used in the same manner as our own without attributing the fact to other causes Although New York banks are charged with having managed their affairs without proper discretion, with not keeping on hand a sufficient amount of reserves to meet the expected autumn demand and maintain a steady market, yet the large receipts of foreign capital and the prospect of considerable additions, will serve to allay apprehensions In the meanwhile large and increasing quantities of domestic produce will be marketed in Europe before the middle of October, and afford material relief in the shape of bills of exchange We have been importing largely and exporting in small quantity but our requirements for foreign goods are now pretty well filled for the balance of the year, while our exports are increasing heavily

There are indications, however, of an actual scarcity of money to move the grain crop of this season Leading grain exporters are buying sown wheat more largely than heretofore, and there is a considerable amount now in store. The two vessels now loading, the Electra and Navigator will probably finish their cargoes early next week The tonnage in the coast at present is clearly admitted to be insufficient in capacity to sensibly lessen the wheat now in store, and the demand for additional vessels is becoming strong The seven vessels now en route for Portland from Europe will doubtless be principally laden with wheat at a profit more particularly to ship owners than to producers or shippers As an illustration of this we quote the following from the San Francisco Bulletin of the 21st inst

The Dutch bark Hertha which has just been chartered to take wheat to Cork at the unprecedented rate of £5 11s 6d, has done well since leaving Europe She had a paying cargo from Hamburg to the China Seas where she picked up a coast charter for $9 000 and then was chartered for San Francisco at $12,500, and now she gets about $30,000 to take wheat to Cork Just before leaving China the vessel was offered for sale and the best bid for her was $16 000 At that price she will more than clear herself by her last engagement"

The Mark Lane Express is of the opinion that wheat will be cheaper in England during the next twelve months than it has been in the past year at the same time it admits that the English wheat crop is deficient in quality and quantity As the crops in France and on the continent are far from abundant, we fail to see how there is to be cheaper bread in England, especially since there has been a partial failure of the potato crop in England and Ireland, The probabilities are in favor of dear wheat in Great Britain The price there is likely to rule higher than for any time during the past five years We may not see a repetition of the extreme rates of 1867 though the late tendency has been in that direction

The general features of our home market are without change since our last report prices are ruling about the same with a slight tendency to decrease in most groceries and provisions unless it be in the article of sugar In this there is an appreciation in the New York market, owing to the increased consumption

Fruits vegetables etc are in abundant supplies both of home production and California raised Rates tend downward

Bags and bagging are decidedly higher

The George S Wright which arrived here last night from the North brought 120 tons of freight as follows 32 bbls oil [illegible] kgs of furs and skins 100 tons of coal

The barks Electra and Navigator loading at the East side wharf have now on board about 500 tons of wheat respectively

The brig Perpetua which arrived Wednesday evening from San Francisco brought about 500 tons of railroad iron and miscellaneous cargo She is discharging freight at Flanders wharf

The steamship John L Stephens will sail for San Francisco to-morrow evening at 2 o'clock with freight and passengers

The schooner Robert Cowan from Honolulu reached port Wednesday evening in tow of the tug Merrimac She has a full cargo of sugar and tropical fruits She is discharging at Stephens & Moffett's wharf

Two barks are reported off the bar at the last accounts

ADOPTED BY THE NATIONAL CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA JUNE 5, 1872

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia on the 5th and 6th days of June 1872, again declares its faith [illegible] appeals to its history [illegible] to point to [illegible] the [illegible]

1 During eleven years of [illegible] it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time It suppressed a gigantic rebellion [illegible] emancipated four millions of slaves decreed the equal citizenship of all [illegible] established universal suffrage Exhibiting a [illegible] parallel [illegible] it [illegible] unity punished no man [illegible] for political offenses and warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors It has steadily decreased with firm hand the resultant disorders of a great war and initiated a wise and humane policy [illegible] the Indians [illegible] [illegible] the Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted [illegible] public lands freely given to actual settlers [illegible] [illegible] has been invited [illegible] [illegible] the rights of naturalized citizens [illegible] protected from foreign powers [illegible] [illegible] the national currency has been [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] extraordinary [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] funds of [illegible] The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied Despite the annual large reductions of the rates of taxation the public debt has been reduced during General Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 a year A great financial crisis has been averted and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised and the honor and power of the Nation kept in high respect throughout the world This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future We believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men composed chiefly of those who have resisted every step of this beneficial progress

2 Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race creed color or previous condition of servitude

3 The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right not merely tolerated because they are law and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments

4 The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations protecting its citizens every where and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty

5 Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal is fatally demoralizing and we therefore favor a reform of the system by a laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position without practically creating a lifetenure of office

6 We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolists and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people

7 The annual revenue after paying current debts should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties on importations which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor ers and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country

8 We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors who se valor saved the Union Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and gratified people We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged and who in the line of duty became disabled without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge

9 The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance once a subject always a subject having at last through the efforts of the Republican party been abandoned and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Governments and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration

10 The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way prepared for reductions in the rates of postage

11 Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital and for labor which creates capital the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization

12 We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation

13 We denounce the repudiation of public debts in any form or disguise as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment

14 The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction; and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration

15 We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land

16 The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments It disapproves of resorting constitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government

17 It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship building

18 We believe that the modest patriotism the earnest purpose sound judgment practical wisdom incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U S Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people and with him at our head we start to-day upon a new march to victory

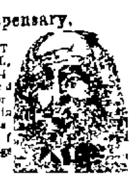
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco established 1854 In the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhoea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Skin Diseases of [illegible] standing, and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearny street corner of Commercial San Francisco where [illegible] patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases,

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases a especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the faces furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers, etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus diplomas certificates, pretended patients letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure
